FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONDAY, April 4-6 P. M. The heavy storm assisted the natural dulness in Wall street to-day attendant upon a disposition to await further developments in THE MONEY MARKET. to which attention was very generally directed by the closing activity in the rates on call loans last week. The earlier transactions to-day were at seven per cent, but after two o'clock borrowers were freely accommodated at five per cent on govern-ments and at six per cent on stocks. The activity of last week was purely artificial, the banks continuing to report their receipts larger than their remutances. Until the rates of domestic exchange are against this city or until the speculation at the Stock Exchange ecomes so buoyant and active as to engage all the idle capital which is now on deposit in the metropo-his there can be no natural activity in excess of six to seven per cent. Commercial paper is unchanged by this flurry in the money market, and continues to be quoted at seven to eight per cent for prime double acceptances.

GOVERNMENTS STRONG AND HIGHER. The agitation of the question whether the Public Credit bill of last year does not put an estoppel to the operation of the present Funding bill, as well as the firmer and nigher price for gold, assisted a better ne of the Public Credit bill, it is one of trifling moort, which can be readily removed by the parliathe latter reach final passage, the usual words, "and all laws and parts of laws inconsistent berewith are hereby repealed.", The strength of the government market lies in other facts. The Treasury programme of the week contemplates the sale of a million of gold on Wednesday and the purchase of a million of bonds on Thursday. The government list closed strong, as follows:-United States currency sixes, 112 a 11214; do., 1881, registered, 1131/4 a 114; do. do., concen. 1141/ a 1143/: do five-twenties, registered, May and November, 10514 a 106; do. 1862, coupon, do., 110 % a 110 %; do, 1864, do, do., 109% a 109%; do, 1865, do. do., 109% a 109%; do., 1865, January and July, 108% a 108%; do. 1867, do. do., 109% a 109%; do. 1868, 109% a 109%, do. ten-forties, registered, GOLD FIRMER.

The gold market was dull and steady at 111% during the usual hours of business, but after three o'clock, upon the stendier market for foreign exchange, and particularly upon the report of a decline the price advanced to 111%, with sales at a sixteenth per cent higher in late street transactions. The pub-He credit question above referred to had already rendered the market sensitive to an advance, and hence its prompt response to additional influences. The orse of the market is shown in the table:---

BOUTHERN SECURITIES—NEW TENNESSEES ACTIVE. In the Southern list the new Tennessees were the only feature in an otherwise quiet market, and advanced to 52 in sales on the street subsequent to the last board. STOCKS STRONG AND DULL. The stock market was exceedingly dull, and although there was spasmodic life in some of the leading shares at intervals in the afternoon, based upon improved railway earnings, the street dealings at the close were carried on by a mere handful of brokers who had patience and endurance enough to take the pelting of the storm. A slip of the pen on Saturday gave the Northwestern road an increase instead of a decrease of earnings. The mistake was so obvious, however, that it corrected uself. To-day St. Paul advanced to 61% upon a showing of an unprovement exhibited in nearly $9,000 difference in the earnings of the fourth week in March, which period was expected to show a very heavy disparity. The earnings of Lake Shore for the same period show an increase of $7,500, and for the month of March $22,700. Rock Island opened heavy, but improved about one and a half per cent on the statement of an increase of $44,960 for the month and $17.807 for the last week of March. The Vanderbilt shares advanced on the report that after the Charter bill is disposed of the Central fare bill will have im mediate and favorable attention. Erie was strong and Reading steady. Boston, Hartford and Erie ad vanced to 515 on the expectation of a favorable report from the Legislative committee which recently made the tour of the line, but subsequently reacted to 4. closing at 4%. Wabash sold at 46. In settled, but generally strong. Cumberland was more active and rose to 33, while Western Union touched 32%. THE CHEESEPRESS AND HAVLOFT DEMC-CRACY.

Action of the Democratic State Central Com-mittee—Salt No Longor Necessary to Save the Democracy—The Presidency. SYRACUSE, April 2, 1870.

Now that the keepers of hotels, saloons, restaurants and cribs in this well pickled metropolis have been startled by the information that the grist of the next democratic convention is to be ground in Rochester it may be of interest to the public to know something of the causes-personal, political or strategic-which have led to a preference for the Figur City. People everywhere have by this time become conscious that the democratic family is not happy. The wrangling of their Senators and Assemblymen over the City Charter and the disposition evinced by a certain portion of the press to sully the reputation of one of their most prominent leaders, by charging his great wealth to official corruption, exnibit a spirit of domestic incompatability which, in Indiana, would lead to a divorce. But the difficulties among the New York city politicians are so irequent that they are now, in the rural districts, thought chronic, and never disturb philosophers of the hayloit. What to those astate thinkers are the rivalries of the "ring?". They want from 40,000 to 100,000 democratic majority in New York when the ballots are counted, and that is the ring of victory. The copperhead organ in New York may be as wise as its radical associate in the John Morrissey party, and may throw dirt upon the character of its own partisans notil it aids in purifying its party out of a governor and a majority in both branches of the Legislature; but the democrats in the country will only stop to weigh the value of their ally when they question they are not disturbed either by the vices of the plundering Tweed or the despotic Sweeny.

THE SALT LICES.

Still there is one point upon which some portions of the rural democracy are a little sensitive, and that is the domination of the city in State Conventions. A short time previous to the last democratic convention held in this city the organ here, speaking at the dictation of a local clique of politicians, com-menced an attack upon the party organization in the State; complained of the preponderance of city the State; complained of the preponderance of city delegates, and even went so far as to suggest that the venerable and devoted Sammy Tilden, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, would very properly make way for some gentleman who vegetated farther West. This was a heavy blow at Sammy, and by those who had observed how modestly he had borne his honors it was thought altogether undeserved; but it was not the only ground of oftence. The Onondaga county democracy became crotchety upon the judiciary clause of the new constitution, repudiated the action of the con-bow modestly be had borne his honors it was thought attogether undeserved; but it was not the only ground of offence. The Onondaga county democracy became crotchety upon the judicary clause of the new constitution, repudiated the action of the convention, and, under the lead of Judge Comstock, voted almost en masse with the republicans. Here was a situation to make the judicious grieve, in the very locality favored by the committee was discovered the head of a formidable rebellion; the organization of the party was criticised. Its leaders censured and its policy rejected. Was there ever a more flagrant breact of discipline? It was attogether an unpardonable offense, that a people who were feeding the delegates upon high-priced vegetables should be thus negligent of the duties imposed by fidelity and good fath. The lightest penalty that could be inflicted upon such transgressors was evidently a change of locality for the convention; and now the citizens of Syracuse may make the nost of their tears by shedding them into their sait vats.

THE COMING CITY.

Half way between Syracuse and Buffalo, and situated on the Genesee river and on the edge of Genesee fails, many of the readers of the Hikkalo will remember an inconsiderable town, devoted to militing and the nursery business; and this is to be the new seat of empire for the democracy. The place is most celebrated as the polat where the flowers of your continuous continuous continuous continuous care the flowers of a certain fast trotter will remember an exceedingly fond of their pursuits that any here to ker agreement what show or camp meeting in the season to the accession to use his "Dexter" there to very good advantage. But pace is non pursuits that any here to key access to the polat where the flowers off the content of the sait lickers and Jerry rescuers they will not be subjected to any factious opposition, and that whoever it shall please the Convention to place in nomination will be accepted in good laith and without question. This is a great point gaine

A JUVENILE INCESDIARY.

He Fires Police Hendquarters to Aid His Escape.

Some days ago a child aged but four years, named John McIntyre, who ran away from his parents, in Newark, and came to this city, fell into the hands of the police and was taken to the Central Office. There he was turned over to the custody of Mrs. Ewing, who has charge of the lost and truant childrent. On Friday night the little innocent, who pined for liberty, arose from his cot in the "Lost pined for liberty, arose from his cot in the "Lost Children's Department," on the upper floor of the building, opened the stove, and taking out some coals placed them against the base of the door and endeavored to fire it, and thus barn out a panel. Fortunately the fire went out.

At three o'clock yesterday morning Mrs. Ewing discovered smoke in her room adjoining that of the children and harriedly arose and entered the apartment, where she found one of the lower panels of the door a mass of fame and a large fire burning at the base of the door. It was promptly extinguished, when it was discovered that the young incendiary, to make his second attempt a success had ingeniously arranged a folding siste about the pile of coals, upon which he had placed pieces of wood and thus secured a good draft. The panel was burned nearly through and five minutes more would have made a hole sufficiently large for him to go out. The youngster was cute enough to open the windows to permit the exit of the smoke, and thus prevent his suffocation. He states that his intention was to burn a hole large enough to crowd through, then put out the fire with water and escape. It is not known whether Fire Marshal Brackett will prosecute him for arson, but, should be do so, Chawles would be certain to secure a conviction. The youngster was yesterday turned over to the custody of the Commissioners of Charittes and Correction, who had better look out for him, or he may fire the Juvenile Asylum.

ESCAPE FROM SING SING PRISON.

Perilous Feat by a Convict.

A convict, named Jefferson Knight, who was confined in the upper tier of cells at Sing Sing Prison, succeeded in escaping from that institution last Fri-day night or Saturday morning. It appears that the fellow contrived by some adroit maneauvre to se-crete the requisite implements, and with these he cut a hole through the upper portion of his cell, thereby gaining the roof, from which it is supposed he made the perflow descent by means of a lightning rod. The escaped desperado was serving out three differ-ent terms of imprisonment, the last of which would not expire until 1877.
